MODERN SOCIAL PERSPECTIVES

Mary Margaret Daugherty, Jackie Pozza, Jenny Lang and Cathy Stone chat after they finished their small group work.

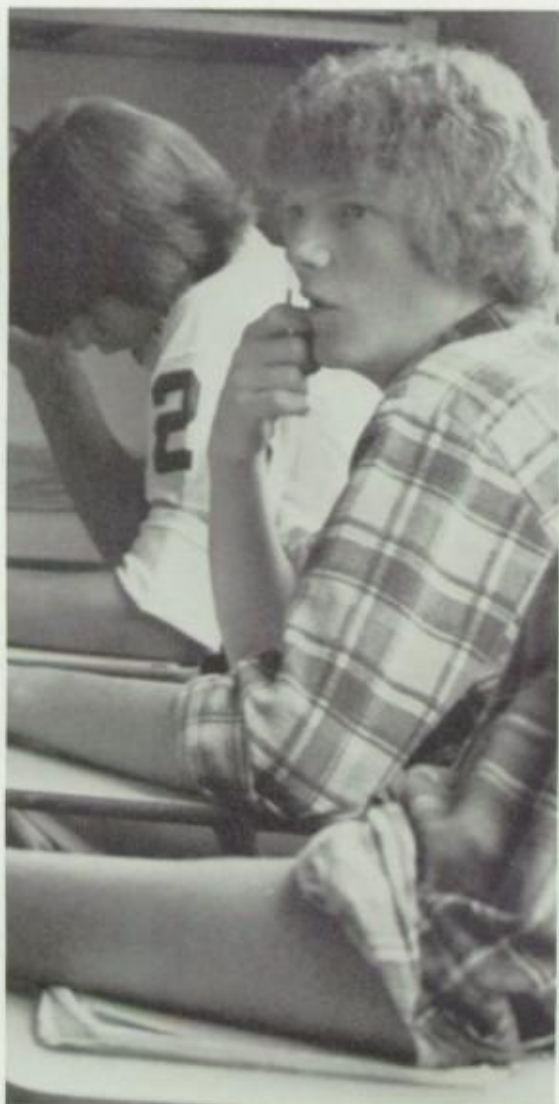

Marie Miller and Jane Schneider discuss something amusing during M.S.P. small group.

Modern Social Perspectives was the central theme for the course of study throughout the year. Humanities courses consisted of Communications, History, and Theology. The program featured a variety of guest speakers, various projects, and a few movies. As the different aspects of modern social perspectives were studied, guest speakers were invited to speak to the student body on the fields in which they were directly involved. Novels studied by each class in the light of modern social perspectives were Frannie and Zooey, Coming of Age in Mississippi, Raise High the Roof Beam, Carpenters, and A Separate Peace. Films included Bless the Beasts and the Children and Medium Cool. Foyer projects were once again an integral part of the humanities curriculum for Cycle I and Cycle II.

Fr. Weibel returns to the back of the cafeteria after focusing Bridget Lambert's, Tammy Schosler's and Ann Dudzic's attention to the lector in front.

Tim Zillifro contemplates a test question.

Dr. Ruby gives Judy Combs special instructions during freshman orientation.

Connie Zacherl and Peggy Ward listen attentively to what their teacher is saying.

Chris Hargenrader and Tricia Reinsel raise their hands to make a contribution to a discussion.

Craig Faller studies, oblivious to Chris Nelson's shenanigans.

Brenda Lynam is astounded at what she has learned during small group.

Jean Connelly relaxes as Laura Ruby inspects the cover of the book she has to report on.

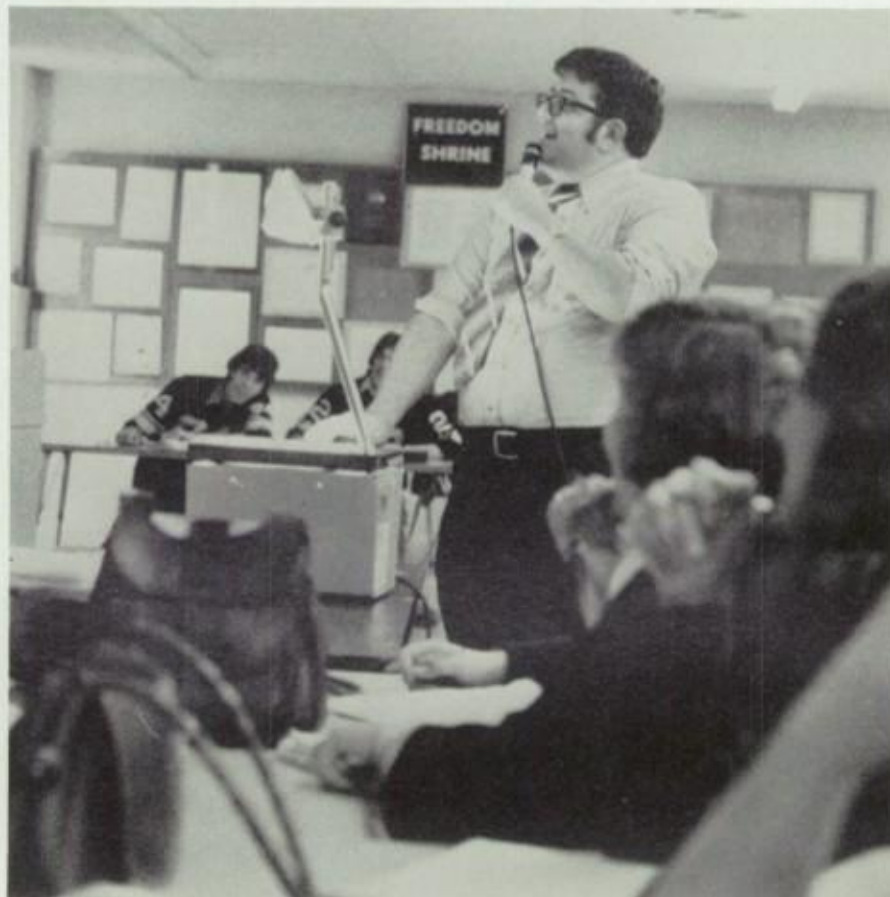

Mary Schettler appears somewhat bored during a humanities mod.

Dave Miller finds something in his humanities packet very amusing.

Dr. Ruby is at his peak of happiness when lecturing to all the Cycle II students.

Fr. Toven is amused by Ann Stanley and Jane Schneider's conception of "Life at V.C."

Tom Fox daydreams while waiting for his next MSP assignment.

Dan O'Toole points a threatening trigger finger at Steve Garich during small group.

RELIGIOUS ACTIVITIES

Religious activities were the foundation of Venango Christian High School this year. Each school day began and ended with a prayer. The whole student body was divided by classes and also by humanities sections to prepare a monthly Mass for the individual classes. Phase four and five students planned Holy Day Masses and penance services. Retreats were a traditional function. Seniors attended a weekend retreat in the spring, and underclassmen gathered at local parishes for their day of introspection.

Steve Secules, Laura Ruby, Mary Kay Strickenberger, and Martha Schettler take a moment to prepare for Mass before taking their seats.

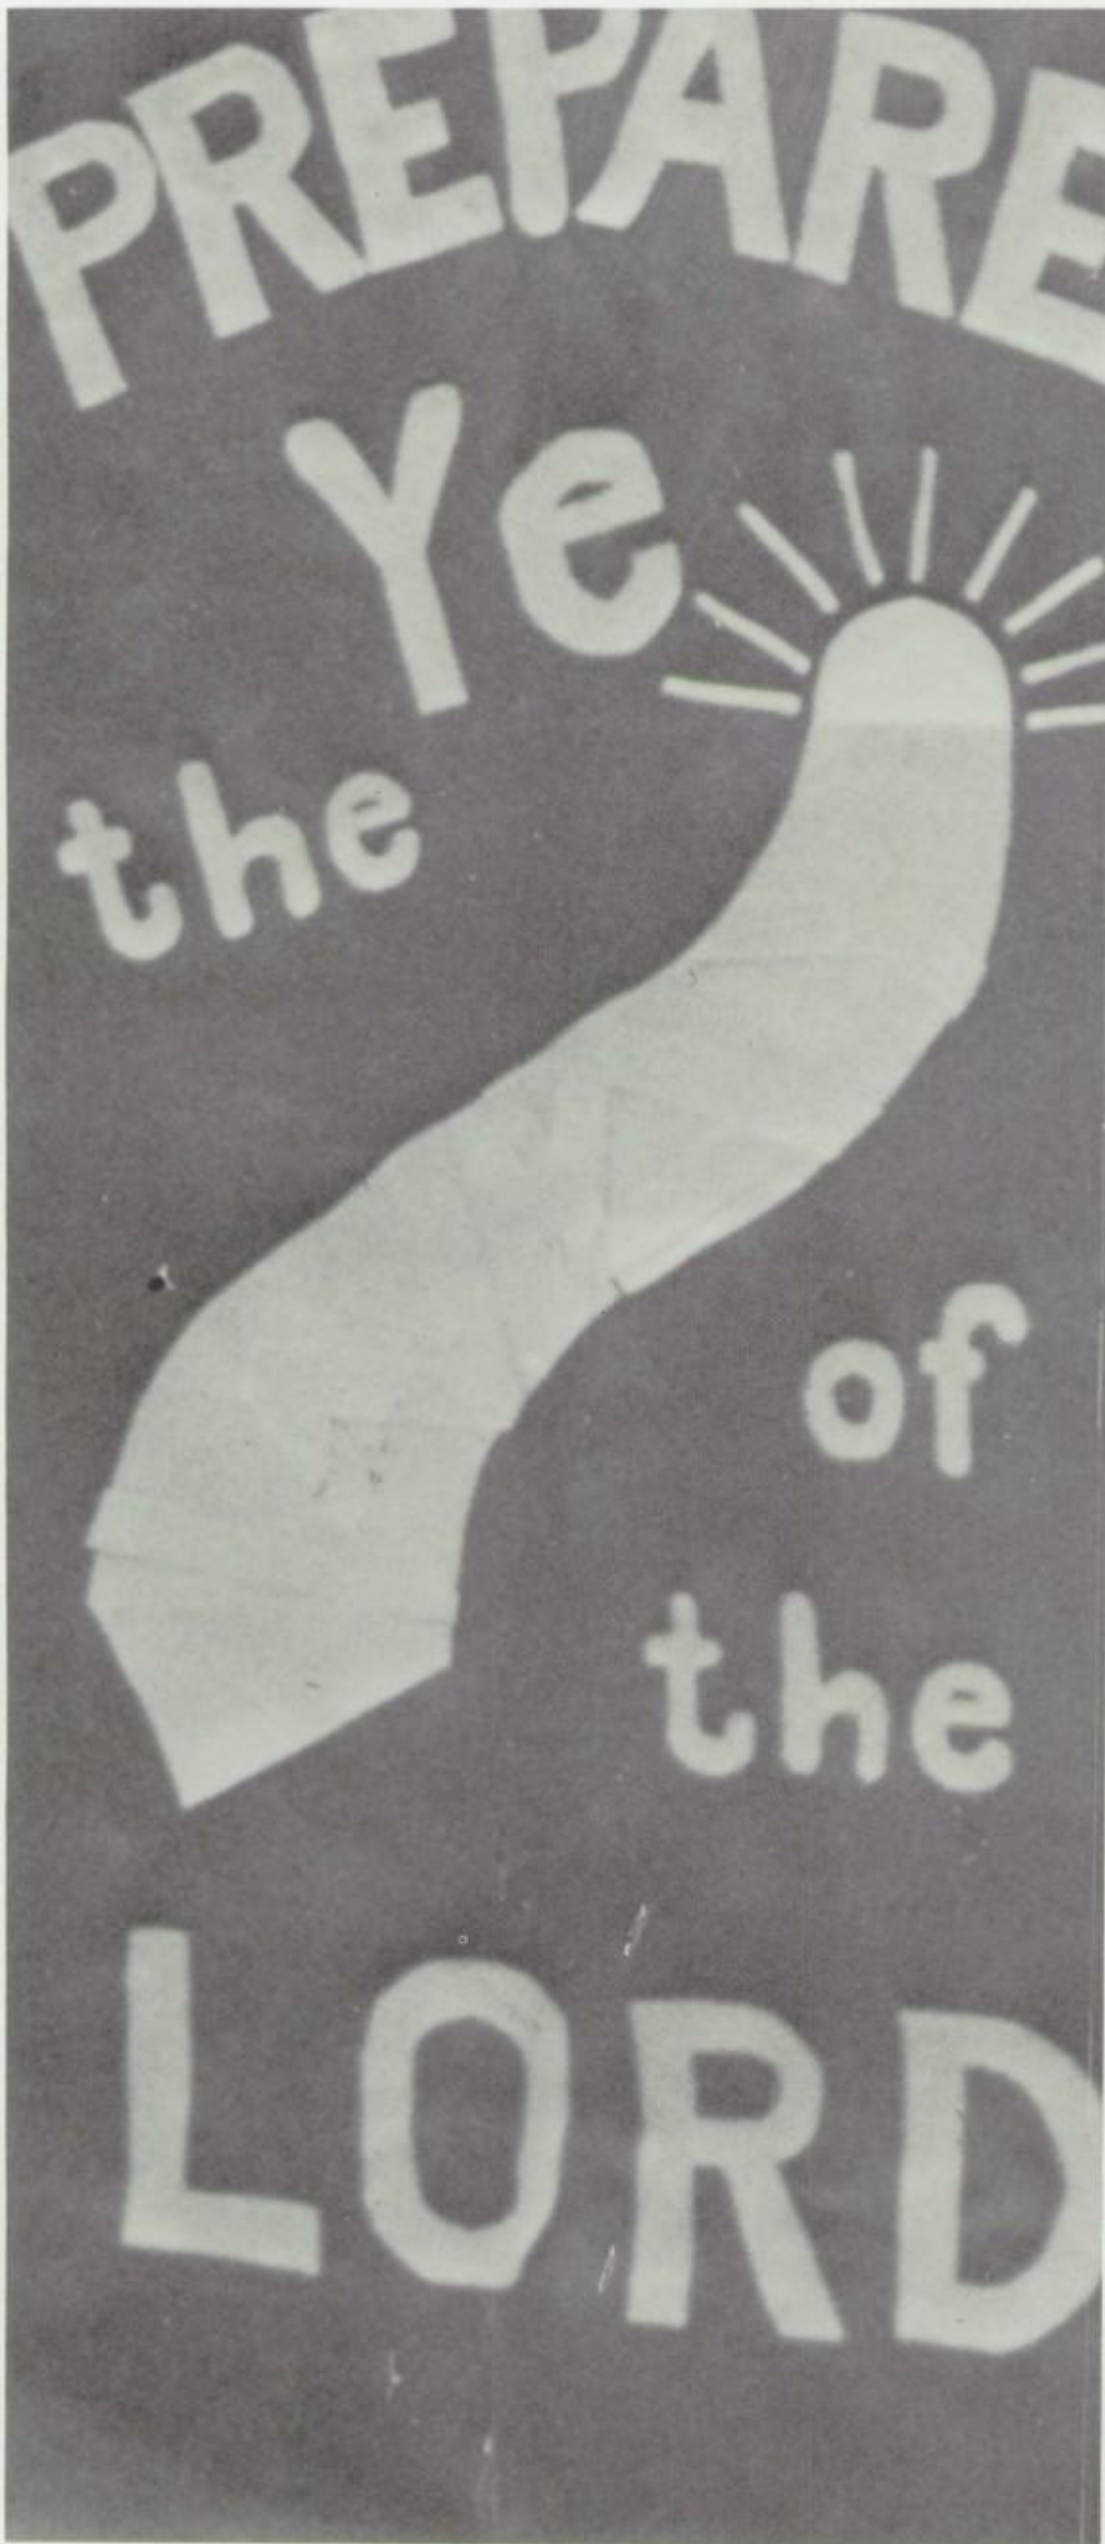

Fr. Rarick distributes communion to Kathy O'Toole and Ned Stanley.

Joe Lynch, Chris Carson, and Bill Hall receive the host from Fr. Steve Jeselnick.

During a Cycle II Mass, Fr. Steve consecrates the bread and wine.

During Mass, Tom Cubbison provides a musical selection with Mark Milliren's accompaniment.

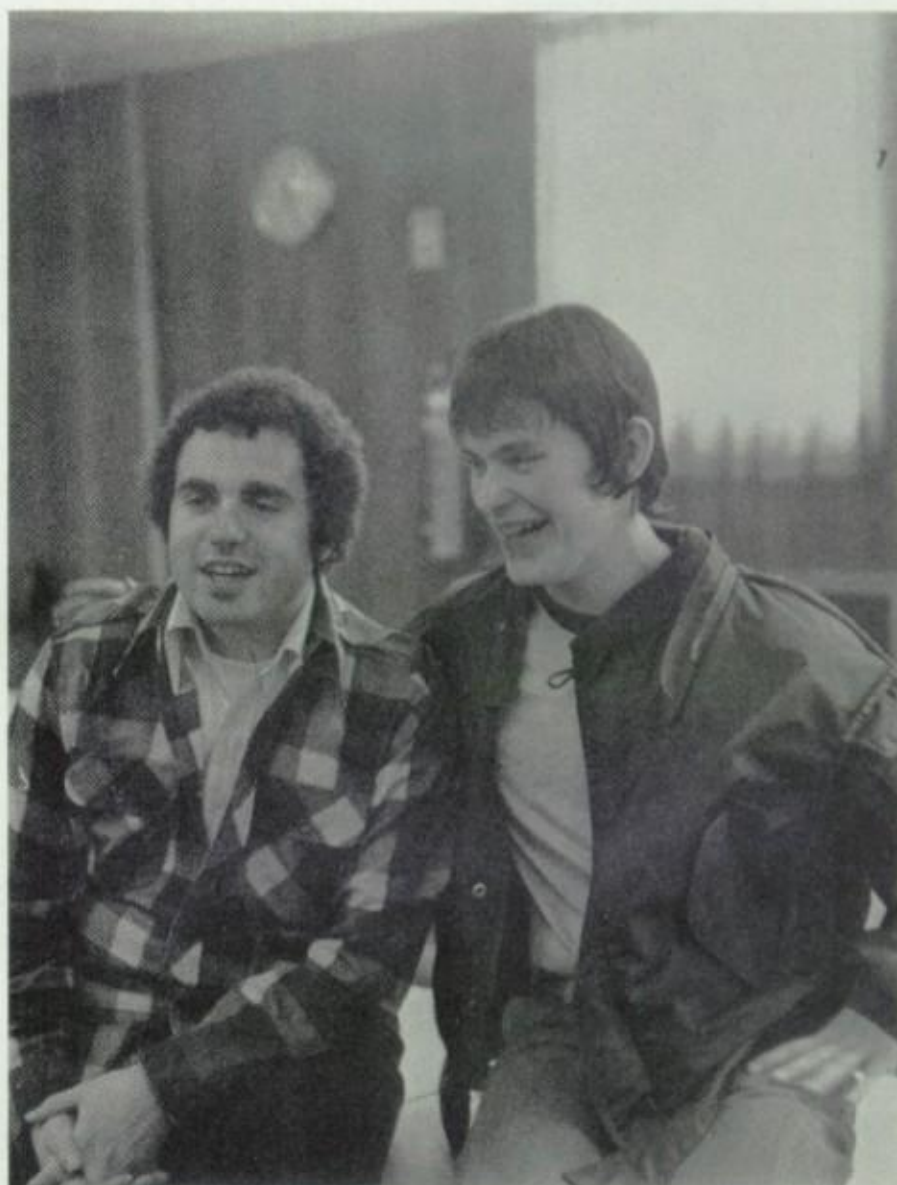

Randy Sonoski does a Scripture reading while the student body listens.

GUIDANCE

This year Fr. Ronald Toven assumed the duties of Guidance department head. He replaced Fr. John Santor who was transferred to Cathedral Prep in Erie. While Fr. Toven handled weekly guidance sessions for seniors and sophomores, Fr. Richard Butryn and Fr. Steve Jeselnick provided guidance for the junior and freshman classes. Their basic aim was to help all Venango students to grow intellectually and spiritually. In addition to administering various standardized tests, the department also coordinated the Family Living course. Freshmen were given a basic orientation while sophomores were prepared for Confirmation. Juniors and seniors were involved in personal development and marriage classes.

Father Jeselnick and Steve Pochron chat at their retreat, one of the Guidance Departments functions.

Mary Egan and Lori Hugar discuss college choices with Father Butryn.

Mike Winger talks with Fr. Toven concerning his plans after graduation.

Fr. Toven and Fr. Steve discuss the curriculum of the guidance department with Susie Eckert, Martha Schettler, Joe Pilewski, and Bridget Foy.

MATH-SCIENCE

The Math-Science Department expanded its curriculum this year with a course in Consumer Mathematics. Taught by faculty newcomer Mr. Russell States, juniors and seniors explored the practical applications of mathematics to daily living. Juniors elected courses in Algebra II, Precalculus, and Chemistry. Senior offerings included Advanced Math, Calculus, and Physics. Cycle I freshmen and sophomores pursued a year-long study of Earth Science and Algebra I. As a change, Math lectures for Cycle I were moved to a small group atmosphere in which better understanding occurred. Fr. Joseph Akus taught sophomores, Mr. Gary McGinnity instructed freshmen, and Sr. Mary Regina Flanagan had the phase 4 and 5 students.

Monique Smith ponders the quadratic equation in Math small group.

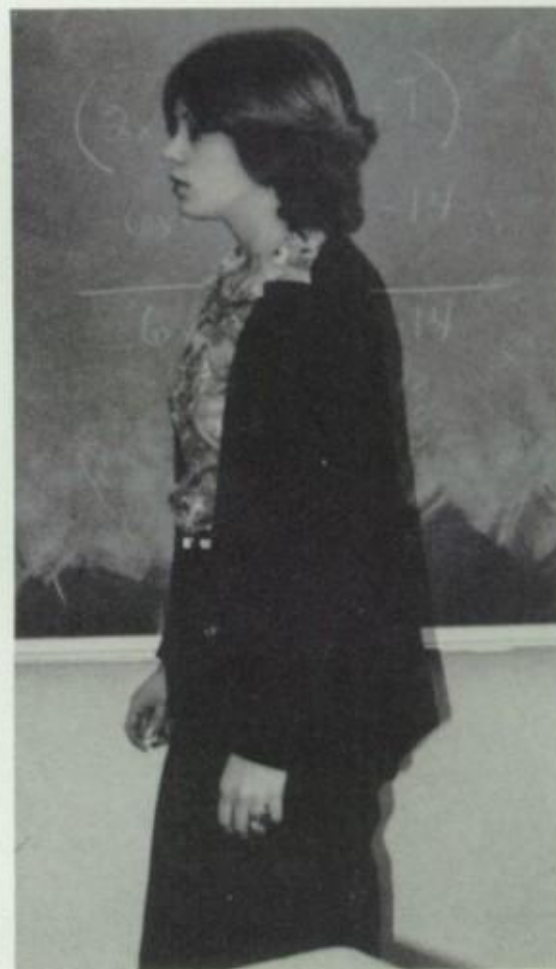

Jody Faller, Mr. States, and Colleen Adamchik share a joke during an Earth Science small group.

During Algebra, Fr. Joe works out an example on the board.

At the Cycle I Christmas party, Ned Stanley sneaks up behind Tracy Schossler to give her a holiday kiss.

Debbie Secules looks lost as she attempts to understand her new assignment.

Sr. Regina explains a problem to a perplexed Roy Samol.

Mr. Russell States teaches the finer points on how to grow a mustache during a Cycle I lecture.

Mary Kay Lynch and Marie Miller "pig-out" at the party, while Colleen Adamchik and Kate Ragon's attention is elsewhere.

Tony Giordano, Martha Camp, and Ann Egan take a break from their studies for some horseplay.

Mark Wnuk, Brian Ward, and Tracy Schossler smile sweetly for the photographer before a Math lecture starts.

Mr. Gary McGinnity surveys the festivities at the Christmas party.

Jane Schneider, Marie Miller, and Laura Ruby diligently work on their Earth Science assignments.

After their work is finished, Dawn D'Aluisio, Jean Connelly, Julie Carson, Ann Dudzic, and Bob Hynes find time to think about what they'll do after school.

Jane Schneider dreams of the good old days when she was back in eighth grade.

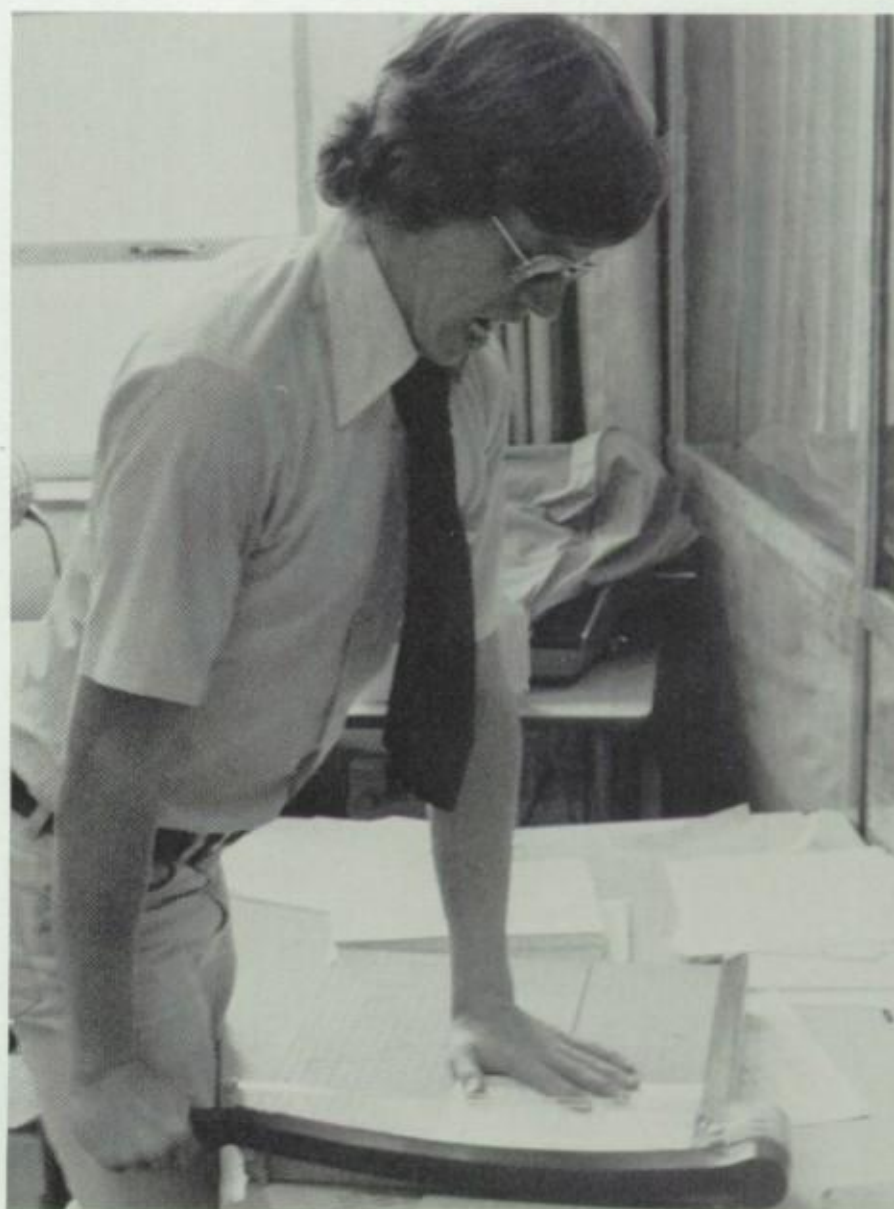

Senior typist Bridget Foy busily works to complete an assignment.

BUSINESS

This year's Business Department was headed by Miss Sherry Thomas, while Mr. Russell States shared the responsibilities as one of the advisors. The business course this year consisted of Typing, Steno, Accounting, Consumer Math, and Receptionist Training. While Miss Thomas taught the courses in Type, Steno, and Accounting, Mr. States introduced Consumer Math to the student body. His course gave pointers on how being a good consumer benefits the wage earner now and in future years. Receptionist Training was in the hands of a new coordinator, Mrs. Gerry Xander. She taught the girls the correct procedures of secretarial work in an office setting.

Theresa Shannahan, Kathy Lynch, Missy Kleck, Kathy Toscano, and Pat Anderton show varying degrees of interest.

Mike Kirwin works in the graphic arts room.

HOME ECONOMICS

The Home Economics Department was under the supervision of Miss Deborah Moak who took over in September as the new Home Economics teacher. Students from every grade participated in Home Ec. The class consisted of various courses from many fields. Child care prepared the students for future parenthood, while interior decorating taught the students the act of laying out plans for their future homes. The classes took a field trip to Pennwood Galleries to deepen their knowledge in the field of interior design. Cooking and sewing provided instructions on the basics of housekeeping. The sewing course also gave the students the opportunity to prepare for the style show which was held in the spring. Finally, consumer education gave the Home Economics students some pointers on how to be a wise and thrifty consumer in today's world of inflation.

Tammy Schossler sews a dress on her sewing machine.

Ann Dudzic irons her skirt in Home Economics, as she was instructed by Miss Moak.

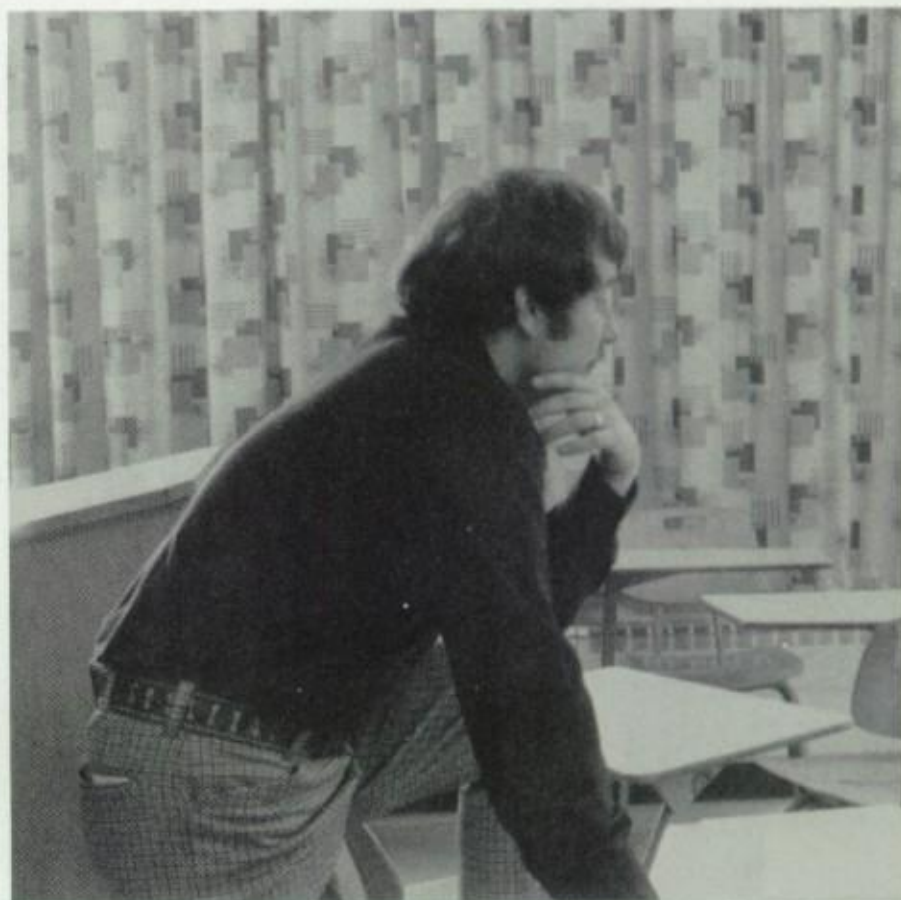

Spring Noel and Marie Miller pause to exhibit their creations before the class.

LANGUAGE

This year the Language Department offered freshmen a Modern Foreign Language program. The MFL program consisted of two semester-long units of basic French and Spanish. The sophomores chose a more advanced study of either French II or Spanish II. Juniors and seniors participated in an optional program of advanced French or Spanish. Mr. Sebastian Rubino instructed the Spanish students while Mr. John McBryer guided the French classes. A long-range remedial reading course was developed by Miss Mary Anne Wilkinson with Mr. Rubino and Mrs. Connie Runzo as assistants. Mrs. Paula Henderson, a learning disabilities specialist, came once each week to help out. Sister Georgine also tutored students in reading.

Mr. McBryer powerfully looks over his French students.

Audio-visual aids give the students a flavor for the sounds of French and Spanish.

Marie Miller takes time out to think during a Spanish class.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The Physical Education Department at Venango Christian was once again directed by Mr. Dean Henderson, whose continually inventive ideas in the area of physical education were welcomed whole-heartedly by the student body. Beginning the classes with calisthenics and stretching exercises, students then moved on to games and contests. They enjoyed such endeavors as dodge ball, basketball, wiffle ball, volleyball, weightlifting, trampoline, swimming, wrestling, soccer, gymnastics, and punch-ball. Games of all sorts held the students' collective interest and made physical education both fun and exciting. Mr. John McBryer, Mr. Gary McGinnity, Rev. John Weibel, and Miss Deborah Moak also assisted in teaching phys. ed.

A.V. CREW

This year's audio-visual crew was given special training in the operation, maintenance, and special effects of electronics stage and classroom equipment by Mr. Sebastian Rubino. They set up microphones and overhead projectors daily for lectures. They were responsible for staging, producing, and lighting all the shows on the school stage. In addition, the A.V. crew built the set for the school play "Oliver." Occasionally, they were called upon to do special shows away from the school for the choral group, or for community groups. They were also responsible for all audio-visual equipment in the school.

The A-V crew awaits the signal for the start of the school play.

Randy Sonoski efficiently sets up equipment for an upcoming lecture.

POLK PROGRAM

The Polk program was a success again this year as it has been the past two years. Many seniors took advantage of the program which gave them valuable experience in the outside world. Interested seniors were allowed to go to Polk State School and Hospital one day a week to intern in a variety of fields. The requirements were permission of parents and satisfactory academic grades. The students selected work experiences from the areas of behavior modification, nutrition, mental retardation, music, nursing, physical education and therapy, psychological testing, recreation, speech and hearing, teachers' aide, and vocational rehabilitation. While working there, Polk State School staff members served as advisors to the students. Dr. James Ruby, coordinator, required the students to keep a diary concerning their experiences at Polk.

GIRL'S SOFTBALL

The 1977 Girl's Softball Team posted their best season ever ending with a 6-10 mark. Playing double-headers, the girls swept two each from Conneaut Valley and Conneaut Lake. They also split double-headers with West Forest and Maplewood.

The defense, which gave up 11.8 runs per game, was led by the pitching of Jan McNamara and the fielding of Martha Schettler and Melissa Mackie. Babe Myers, Marcia McDonald, and Sue Ellen Piersimoni led an offense which scored 7.9 runs per game. The girls were headed by Coach Sherry Thomas. Scott Kase and Pat Slater served as assistant coaches and managers. Graduating lettermen were Deb Wnuk, Gina Pugliese and Robin Perry.

GOLF

The 1977 edition of Venango's golf team compiled a 15-1 record to share top CCAL honors with Cochran High School. The tally marks the best season on the links in VC history. Returning three and four year veterans Randy Sonoski, Joe Pilewski, Tim Zillifro, and Dave Miller combined their experience with the younger talent of new members as the year began with a two-game victory over Conneaut Valley and Kanty Prep. They continued their winning streak over the next five triangular matches. The Vikings suffered their only loss at Edgewater in the seventh match. The season's final victory on the Oakland Beach course secured their co-champion status.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

The varsity gridders enjoyed a record breaking '77 season, ending at a 5-2-2 mark. The effort earned an unprecedented eight seniors berths on the Crawford County League all-star team. Mike Lee average 37 yards per kick during the season and lofted a 61 yard punt for two new school records. Defensively, Jack Coogan assisted in 152 tackles and contributed five fumble recoveries for the season high. Mark Homan blocked four passes and two punts, setting records in each department.

PEP SQUAD

The newly formed pep squads were under the direction of Dr. James Ruby, Fr. Robert Rarick, and Miss Deborah Moak. The new squads were a combination of distributed talents from all the classes. Acting as head captains were Susan Eckert, Sue Ellen Piersimoni, and Theresa Winger. In previous years, the program consisted of a ranking system involving Varsity, Junior Varsity, and Junior High Squads. As part of the new program, the ranking system was not in effect. Therefore, each squad took turns cheering for the various sporting events. The pep squads were formed to enduce more spirit and enthusiasm throughout the crowd.

BAND

The Venango Christian High School Pep Band performed for the V.C. basketball games to lift the Viking spirit. The band played the familiar "Sweet Georgia Brown," "Fight Song," and other favorites. The band also took to the road by going to the Belle Lettres Club for a mid-day performance. There they played "Misty," "You Light Up My Life," and other pop tunes for the club. The director of the band was Mr. James Scanga. The first elected round table of band officers included President Steve Pochron, Vice President Chris Nelson, and Secretary Mark Milliren.

J.V.'s anxiously await the start of the second half.

J.V. BASKETBALL

The J.V. girls boasted a potent offense in ten outings on their way to the first undefeated season in girl's J.V. history. High scorers Michelle Homan, Carla Garich, and Marcia McDonald with 86, 52, and 48 points respectively sparked the J.V.'s to an average 17 point spread per game. Garich led rebounding with 56 grabs; Jean McNamara followed with 34. The J.V. squad also saw action in many varsity games. Fr. John Weibel guided the Junior Vikes to their undefeated season.

GIRLS BASKETBALL

Fr. John Weibel led the varsity girl's basketball team to their second straight Crawford County League crown. The Vikings were undefeated in regular season play, but dropped one playoff encounter. As they worked their way toward the District crown, they combined a strong defense with a powerful offense. The defense was led by the quickness of Martha Schettler, Angie Burkett, Melissa Mackie, and Robin D'Alusio. Rebounding strength came from forwards Jan McNamara, Mary Kay Lynch, and Julie Carson. They combined for a total of 470 caroms. On the offensive end of the court, the scoring was led by the same trio. McNamara sank an impressive 267 points while Lynch had 227 and Carson, 182. The girls outscored their opponents 1273-772, dominating almost every team they played.

MAJORETTES

The VCHS Majorettes once again provided the halftime entertainment at home basketball games. Captain Barb Irwin and Co-captain Becki Hibbard led the squad. Routines were performed to "Sweet Georgia Brown," "On Wisconsin," "Notre Dame Fight Song," and "In the Mood." Miss Moak headed the group which included senior Patti Kelley, juniors Mindy Foy and Missy Kleck, sophomores Cathy Hogue and Lori Shilling and freshman Robin Karg. Music was provided by the VCHS Band under the direction of Mr. James Scanga.

JUNIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL

The Junior Varsity boys basketball team struggled through this season to achieve a better than .500 record at 9-8. The J.V.'s depended on a run-and-gun offense with Tom Fox, Matt McGinty and Mark Wnuk scoring the points. When the Vikings ran a slow-down offense, Tom Cubbison and Frank Boczon worked the middle. Tony Giordano also came off the bench to do a fine job on the boards. The squad was coached by Fr. John Weibel.

BOY'S VARSITY BASKETBALL

The 1977-78 Varsity boy's basketball team led the Crawford County League throughout the season. The team relied mainly on Mark Homan in the middle and Bill Hall from the outside in tallying their 16-1 mark. Strong defensive play by Dan O'Toole and Joe Lynch helped the Vikes retain a 48.6 defensive average. The fast-breaking offense saw Paul Puleo and Pat Slater rotated in and out of the action in an effort to keep a fresh point man in the game. The Vikes clinched the Crawford County League championship and went on to capture the District 10 crown.

WRESTLING

Wrestling was added to the sports agenda by the athletic department this year. The fledgling program has as its coach Mr. Ross Donahue. This initial year was spent in learning the basic rules and moves of the game. By way of introduction to the student body, the grapplers scheduled an exhibition match with Mercyhurst Prep in February. Senior Mark Ward had a pin while junior Sam Beer and sophomore Dave Albaugh outscored their opponents to win. Overall, the teams efforts netted a 14-14 tie in their first show.

SWIMMING

This year's freshman class was the first to participate in mandatory swimming classes held at the Oil City YMCA. The Monday morning instruction was a vital part of the freshman orientation program. Aquatic director Toby Tyler taught the VC freshmen basic swimming skills and lifesaving techniques as well as water safety and small craft rescue.

OPENING ACTIVITIES

A September 9th show of school spirit kicked off a new year of activities at Venango. Freshman boys building the annual bonfire were closely supervised by the seniors and Fr. John Rosenhamer. As the 1977-78 edition of the Viking football team hustled up the hill, the pep squads led the student body in a round of enthusiastic cheers. The Conneaut Valley game followed. Later in the week, the seniors officially welcomed the freshmen at a picnic supper held on school grounds. The evening's activities were crowned by a hard-fought pie-eating contest which first pitted senior against senior and frosh against frosh for the honor of representing the respective classes. After several tie-breakers, the seniors finally emerged victorious.

This year's Homecoming Week continued many traditions. Monday found students topped by assorted hats, while Star Day was observed Tuesday. Such characters as Elton John, Dorothy of the Wizard of Oz, and Daniel Boone were portrayed. Shoes and socks were the center of Wednesday's Shocks Day, and Thursday was Western Day where students were dressed up as cowboys and cowgirls. Students wrapped up the week with the annual Tag Day to raise money for the Athletic Department.

The Homecoming Queen, Cindy Leno-vich was crowned by Chris Carson and Bill Hall. The dance featured the group "Sunset," and the autumn setting highlighted the evening.

FUNDRAISING

The year's Fundraising program consisted of the annual Carwash and Spaghetti Dinner events which were sponsored by the senior class. The junior class put on the Pizza Bash which provided entertainment for the local public. From nine to one, movies and games entertained the younger members of the community. A dance was held from 8-11 for the local teens. This year's sophomore class held a raffle which pulled in quite a bit of money for their class treasury. The freshman class was responsible for the Valentine Sweetheart Dance, known also as the Sadie Hawkins Dance. The dance provided the Women Libbers of the world an opportunity to ask the guys. The annual V.C.H.S. Bazaar, headed by Fr. John Weibel and Fr. John Rosenhamer, was another success. Area parishioners enjoyed a full course roast beef dinner in the cafeteria and tried their luck at the various games and activities in the gym. Monthly fish fries sponsored by concerned parents rounded out the schedule of fundraisers.

RETREAT

February 6 and 7 were the days of the annual class retreats for freshmen, sophomores, and juniors. All were held in the parishes. Retreat masters Fr. Tom Smith and Fr. Fisher led the junior class day at Help of Christian and Assumption. They ended their day of religious discussion with a 1 p.m. mass. Sophomore and freshmen retreats were headed by Fr. Fisher, Fr. Greg Leopold, and former VC faculty member Fr. Joseph Bobal. Following a Venango tradition, the seniors attended a weekend retreat in late April.

PLAY: "OLIVER"

With the area parochial schools, Venango presented the musical "Oliver" as its dramatic event for the year. Based on Charles Dicken's story of a young orphan trying to survive in nineteenth century London, students recreated the roles of such literary figures as Oliver Twist, The Artful Dodger, and Fagin. Songs included "Food, Glorious Food," "Consider Yourself," and "As Long as He Needs Me." Mark Milliren provided the organ accompaniment for the production, which was under the direction of Fr. Joseph Akus and student director Mark Ward. Miss Deborah Moak, Mrs. Genevieve Kase, and Mrs. Jean Lynch provided costuming for the play.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Student Council initiated their 1977-78 year with traditional Homecoming events. Under President Bridget Foy's direction, the host of week-long activities culminated at the council-sponsored Homecoming Dance. "Sunset," a local band, provided live entertainment. The council also played host for the annual Christmas Dance on December 17. Students danced to the music of "Frendz." Other fundraisers included a number of jeans days which enabled students to don denim at the low price of 25 cents. Lunch-time donut sales were also held. VC participated in two Exchange Days with Mercyhurst Prep School and North Clarion High School. Bridget Foy and Secretary Joe Pilewski represented Venango at these schools, while exchange delegates toured VCHS. The year also saw the re-writing of the constitutional bylaws governing student council election procedures. Joe Lynch served as vice president while Mike Zampogna was SC treasurer.

SAGA

The 1977-78 SAGA staff experienced excellent leadership at the hands of Fr. Joseph Akus and Miss Mary Anne Wilkinson. The two advisors coached an expanded staff of thirty members, who divided the work load under the separate headings of art, layout, copy, photography, typing, and editing. Deadline weekends were busy, but not too overly hectic due to constant work by the large staff. For the first time in the history of SAGA, juniors were included in the full compliment of the staff. The financial secretary was Mary Kay Strickenberger. The typing end was handled by the three-person staff of Cindy Lenovich, Kathy Toscano, and Becki Hibbard. Photography was done by Mark Ward, Scott Kase, Dave Kaplan and Jack Coogan.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The National Honor Society, headed by faculty advisor Mr. Dennis McDonald, coordinated two main functions this year. The annual Homecoming Banquet was held in October. VCHS alumni, faculty, and '77 Homecoming Court representatives were invited to the afternoon brunch before the Union City game. NHS also sponsored Career Day activities. Businessmen and women spoke on a variety of careers which ranged from Architecture to social work. Mr. Paul Gradwell, president of the Oil City Chamber of Commerce, informed Cycle II students of the local job opportunities in his opening address. This year's NHS officers were President Chris Hopwood, Vice President Tom Brzuz, and Secretary-Treasurer Mary Egan.

SKIING

The 1978 Ski Club enjoyed another great season at the ski resort in Youngsville, Pennsylvania. The skiers took a jammed bus for lessons and several hours of pure recreation on the snowy slopes. The weather was extremely good for this classic winter sport. The club went to Youngsville a total of seven times, and the slopes were great on a majority of the evenings. Aside from the usual complaints of cold and moisture, everything ran smoothly under the orderly moderation of Fr. Joseph Akus. Father Akus assisted in the management of the Ski Club last year, and took the operation over completely this season.

CHORUS

Choral at Venango Christian began its tenth season under Mr. James V. Scanga. In his second year as choral head, Mr. Scanga directed the group at a variety of functions. The choral traveled to Cross Creek Resort in the early fall to provide entertainment for the Christian Women's Club. As Christmas approached, the choral caroled at Polk State School and Hospital. The annual Christmas Concert provided a festive note on which to dismiss the student body for the holiday week. In preparation for the spring concert students learned a variety of popular hits by such artists as the Beatles and Jim Croce.

JUNIOR HISTORIANS

Gettysburg was the focus of the year for VC's Junior Historians as they traveled to the Tri-State Junior Historian Convention on November 18. From the historic Civil War battleground, they continued eastward to New York City. There they toured Staten Island, the Statue of Liberty, and the Empire State Building. The historians held many fundraising events throughout the year under the direction of faculty moderator Fr. John Rosenhamer. Officers included President Lisa Rhodes, Vice President Mark Ward, Secretary Mary Schettler, and Treasurer Rob Tompkins. Martha Schettler served as historian.

Senior Historians. Mark Ward, Sue Deemer, John Lang, Lynn Murray, John Malys, and Ann O'Keefe.

Senior Historians. Steve Garich, Lisa Rhodes, Dan O'Toole, Mary Jane Stephenson, and Rob Tompkins.

Senior Historians. C. Hopwood, P. Caffrey, D. Lewis, M. Frank, W. Hall, B. Hibbard, R. Sonoski, P. Kelley, and M. Homan.

Senior Historians: Suzy Stubler, Mike London, Julie Myers, Phil Rehberg, Melissa Mackie, Tim Zillifro, and Scott Kase.

PEP CLUB

This year Pep Club was offered to students who wished to help promote more spirit at VCHS athletic events. Paul Puleo, president, and Anne Stanley, secretary, led the group in its many activities. Thirty-three club members took turns calling parents in an effort to make them more aware of the game times. "Rock The Stands" T-shirts were worn by the group to make it a visible as well as an audible presence during games. Several members also painted a Viking figure for the gym.

Spring Noel has been wondering how successful the Pep Club has been at boosting game attendance.

CERAMICS

Ceramics was this year's new addition to the club roster at Venango. Sr. Mary Regina Flanagan, a certified ceramics instructor, moderated the club and taught its twelve members various techniques of staining and glazing ceramic products. Working from an initial stage of cleaning greenware through to the final firing, members completed a selection of Christmas ornaments, a Christmas tree, and various Hummel-like figurines over the course of the year.

PEOPLE

Mr. Rubino,

This year has been very busy and it has been a lot of fun. I really don't know how to say it but thank you for all of your advice and help.
It helped me in a lot of ways.

And as for the cars right hand passenger seat it will never be the same. Maybe with this 10 bucks you can take a taxi next time.

All of my Love

Pat

V.C.H.S. FACULTY

Miss Mary Anne Wilkinson, Rev. Stephen Jeselnick, Miss Deborah Moak, and Mr. Russell States joined the faculty this year. Miss Wilkinson graduated from Penn State with a B.A. in English. She taught Communications and Reading. In addition, she served as a SAGA advisor. Fr. Jeselnick graduated from Notre Dame with a major in English. He instructed Theology as well as Freshmen Guidance. New Home Economics teacher Miss Deborah Moak graduated from Villa Maria College with a B.S. in Home Economics Education. She also coordinated the majorette and pep squads. Mr. States earned his B.S. in Biology from Penn State. In addition to teaching in the Math and Science Departments, he coached golf, moderated the Model United Nations, and was a Ski Club advisor. In addition, Gerry Xander joined the staff as school secretary.

One of Venango's many kitchen volunteers, Mrs. Toscano, finishes the preparations for the day's lunch.

Mrs. Cubbison and Mrs. Fox, familiar faces in the multi-media room, concentrate on their secretarial work.

STAFF

Three new staff members were among the personnel of Venango Christian this year. Mrs. Gerry Xander replaced Sister Rose Ann Kolbas as school secretary early in the summer. No stranger to volunteer work at the school. Mrs. Xander managed the absentee excuses and receptionist trainees in addition to the regular office business. The new head of the cafeteria was Mrs. Regina Rehberg. With Mrs. Xander, she coordinated the monthly fish fries which contributed significantly to the school coffers. Mrs. Gloria Smith worked as a part of the regular cafeteria staff in the mornings and spent the afternoons moderating the multi-media room. Mr. Terry Myers served as the school's new maintenance man. Volunteer workers also made significant contributions to the running of Venango and lightened the load of many teachers. They helped out in the main office, guidance office, cafeteria, multi-media room, and library.

Mrs. Xander, the school secretary, occasionally doubles as a cook when she's not in the office.

Mrs. Tish Malys is caught off guard by the photographer while working in the office.

The cafeteria workers enjoy a delicious meal.

ADVISORY BOARD

The Advisory Board for the 77-78 year included representatives from all supporting parishes complemented by representatives from the faculty, administration, and Booster Club. These people comprised committees which kept V.C. a fine educational institution. The Finance Committee advised the board of the school's financial assets. The school agenda was set up by the Curriculum Committee. There also were committees for Building, Maintenance, Cafeteria, and Special Services. Special Services helped keep the enrollment up by organizing grade visits, parents orientations, and other programs to show prospective students our school.

Father Antoun opens the Advisory Board meeting with a prayer.

PROM

The 1978 Announcement Party was held by the Junior Class on February 28. Craig Faller and Patty Anderton, class officers, served as hosts. Set in the atmosphere of the French Quarter of New Orleans, the Prom Court was announced, while the Juniors and Seniors enjoyed a break from classes. The Prom itself was held May 20. Amidst the official colors of red, white, and green, and with the theme song "C'est la vie" playing in the background, the king and queen were announced. Bill Hall and Janice Carll were chosen. For the occasion the cafeteria had been transformed into a courtyard garden taken straight from a 17th century Louisiana mansion, while the halls became a section of Bleaker St. and the foyer served as a side walk cafe. Dancing 'till the early morning hours, the Seniors enjoyed one of the final events of the year with a feeling of nostalgia.

Craig Faller and Patty Anderton, junior class officers, announce the Prom Court at the Announcement Party.

Judy Lamb, Rick Pfendler, Sue Eckert, and Mark Schwabenbauer anxiously await the announcement of the court.

Several juniors and Miss Moak discuss the court selections.

Take a moment to find a meaning,
a meaning that will make your life complete;
the completion you need to be happy,
the happiness you must spread to others;
but first, reach out. Discover yourself.

Buz
To the one teacher that help me alot. Someone that I had alot of fun with.
Thanks for every thing.
Rodger

Mr. Rulimo

I really enjoyed working with you on the car drive and auto show. I had a great birthday this year and maybe next year I can do the same for you. I hope we will see each other in the future - no joke!

Your friend,
Danylo

Dear,

I've had some fun times in Spanish. I'm sure you did too because we never quit laughing. The last three years have been interesting, jokes + all. That's all right. At least you can pay a learned person to laugh. (Danylo)

Dear,

I really loved my 3 years of Spanish.

I will miss it next year.

I think you are one of the best teachers I've ever had. Really even you are a student.

Believe I'm not leaving your class. I'm sorry I can't but clearly I'm leaving you a lot more.

You have taught me a lot more. Thanks for saying so. (Danylo)

As the class. I really am going to stay + learn at my own.

One more thing. I love looking about my grandparents with you. I would like the future + I go to see you in the future.

Story Time,
May

But to read the book into like to have people in their sleep. Why RMA

To Bug,
The best teacher I have had in the 4 yrs
at Herango. Best friend
a person could have too. Good luck and don't flare too many people. - think of something new to do. RNA

Ps. - Thanks! Radar '78"

To a really unusual kind of friend. I will always remember the fun we had trying to see who could be more ignorant. I think we tied. Anyway I will never forget some of the great times all of us had together especially in A.V. Thanks for letting me in A.V.

Hope we can keep in touch

See Ya

Bob

Thanks for everything else too!
(too much to mention)

TO A REALLY GOOD FRIEND
WHO'S ALWAYS THERE.
ALWAYS REMEMBER THESE:
"THE BEST WAY TO AVOID RESPONSIBILITY IS TO SAY, I'VE GOT RESPONSIBILITIES BUT IT DON'T AND A DINGLE DANGLES BUT IT DON'T FALL OFF! HAVE FUN AT COLLEGE!"

Meat, Amitt

Bug, Thanks for all of the help in everything and have fun in the summer. Good luck in all you do.

Bob

Bob
I'm of fun.
